

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT.

"Whosoever."

There were children on the floor
Conning Bible verses o'er.
"Which word all the Bible through
Do you love best?" queried Sue.
"I like Faith the best," said one,
"Jesus is my word alone."
"I like hope," and I like Love;"
"I like heaven, our home above."
One more, smaller than the rest—
"I like Whosoever best;
Whosoever, that means all—
Even me, who am so small.
Whosoever! Ah, I see;
That's the Word for you and me."
"Whosoever will," may come—
Find a pardon and a home.
—Gleanings for the Young.

DEAR EDITOR:—I have seen no letters from the children in the EVANGELIST, I will write one. Bro. Cober was here holding a protracted meeting for us and the Lord blessed his labors. Seven precious souls accepted Christ while he was here. I must say that he wielded the sword of the spirit with power. When he came he was a stranger, but during his stay we had many associations. When the time of parting came it was hard to say good bye, but may the Lord help us so to live that we may all meet on that shining strand when parting will be no more. I must close for this time.

Nothing To Pay.

A poor woman seeing some grapes in a royal garden wished to buy a few for a sick child at home, but the reply of the gardener was:

"We sell nothing here; all these grapes are for the king's table."

The king's daughter overheard the conversation and told the woman she had made a mistake.

"My father," she added, "is a king, not a merchant, but I will give you some of the grapes for nothing for your child;" and she did.

You can not buy salvation; God is King of kings and Lord of lords.

"When they had nothing to pay he frankly forgave them both." "The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."—SEL.

Put Some Salt In It.

"Mother, what makes you put salt in everything you cook? Everything you make you put in a little salt, and sometimes a good deal." So spoke observing little Annie, as she stood looking on.

"Well, Annie, I'll make you a little loaf of bread without any salt and see if you can find out."

"Oh, mother, it did not taste a bit good," said she after she had tasted it.

"Why not?" asked her mother.

"You didn't put any salt in it."

"Mother," said Annie, in a day or two afterwards, "Jane Wells is the worst girl I ever saw; she slaps her little brother Johnny, and pulls his hair, and acts real hateful. When I told her it was naughty to do so, and if she would be kind to her brother he would be kind to her, she only spoke rough to me, and hit him again. Why won't she take my advice, mother."

"Perhaps you didn't put any salt in it. Season your words with grace, my child. Ask help of God in all you say and do, and your words, spoken in the spirit of Christ, will not fall to the ground. Don't forget to put salt in, or else it won't taste good."—Presbyterian Journal.

Health Better Than Wealth.

Little Martin was a poor boy who had no father nor mother. He earned his bread by going on errands. One day on his way home, he sat down to rest, and to eat his piece of dry bread, near the door of an inn. As he sat there a fine carriage drove up, and the master of the inn came out to serve two gentlemen who were in it. One of them was very young—not much older than Martin—and Martin thought to himself that he should like to be in his place. When he looked at his own crust of bread and his worn clothes and then at their fine things, he could not help saying aloud: "Oh dear, I wish I had that young gentleman's grand coach. I wish I could change places with him."

The other gentleman, who was the boy's tutor, heard this and told it to his pupil, who made signs to Martin to come to him.

"So, little boy," said he, "you would like to change places with me would you?"

"I beg pardon, sir," said Martin, "I did not mean any harm by what I said."

"I am not angry," said the young gentleman; "I only wish to know if you are willing to change places with me."

"Oh, now you are joking," said Martin; "no one would wish to change places with me, and walk so many miles each day, and have nothing to eat but a dry crust."

"Well," said the young man, "I will give you all I have, if you will give me all that you have, and that I have not."

Martin hesitated; but the tutor told him to speak freely.

"Oh, yes," said Martin then; "I will change places with you."

But when the young gentleman stepped out, Martin saw that he was very lame. His legs were bent so that he had to walk with crutches. His face was pale and thin. Martin then began to think that health was better than a fine carriage.

"Will you change places with me now?" asked the youth. "I will give you all that I have to be strong like you."

But Martin said, "Oh no; not for the world."

"I would gladly be poor," said the young man, "if I could run like you; but as it is God's will that I should be lame, I try to be thankful and happy as I am."

Lockwood, Dade County, Mo.

The lands we have for sale are located in a country that, for a combination of those natural resources which add to the pleasure and comfort of man, cannot be excelled, if equalled, by any other locality on this Continent. We refer to the salubrity and healthfulness of its climate, the productiveness of its soil, the profusion and variety of its agricultural products, and the intelligence, morality and good character of its citizens. Comparing its present condition with its possibilities, this country although no longer on the confines of civilization, is yet in its infancy; and investments made in farms now will, eventually, yield a large percentage of gain in value while the country grows into the magnificent proportions destined for it by the great Architect of its natural resources.

We subjoin a partial list of the farms we have to sell, and we will take pleasure in answering any questions pertaining more particularly to the inducements we have to offer to parties desiring to locate in the great and growing West.

- No. 55. 320 acres; 2 miles from Lockwood; good frame house 200 apple trees; peach trees and other fruit and forest trees; also a tenant house newly built; barn and other buildings. Price $35. per acre. This tract may be sold in two parts.
- No. 60. 40 acres; 20 acres fenced; 15 acres timber; never failing spring of water; good land on public road; 2 miles from Lockwood. Price $600.

We will change the above list from time to time, but if any time parties desiring land will write to us describing what they want, we will try to supply their wants. Be sure to see this country before locating elsewhere.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM Washer

Active, honest persons all over the country, with or without team. JOHN C. EVANS, BROOKLAND, Mo., writes: "I stand up and affirm that a Washer never more than hand labor and money in a large family like my Washer and Mower that ever was put on any farm with less than 100 acres in cultivation. If you will get up any instrument that will take as much labor off of men as this Washer takes off of women, and save as much money as it does and cost no more, I will sell one at every house, if they had one, or take the Washers from under their wife and babies to pay for it." JOHN R. DODGE, JR., Jeweler, Normal, Ill., writes: "I know what I think of the Washer. I bought last summer. It is the best machine ever invented by man. It has just as good diamonds on Monday as on any other day. If you run short, you can not buy more for girls. I will only say a sample to those desiring an agent on a week's trial on liberal terms. A thousand per cent the best washer in the world for saving labor, clothes and soap. Pays capable agents big money. Write for particulars. J. WORTH, 1716 Franklin Ave., St. Louis, Mo.
